

Your Right to Free Speech: An Endangered Commodity

DEBORAH LIPSTADT
... "Thought Nazi."

In recent years "mainstream" magazines like Time, Newsweek and U.S. News and World Report have run cover stories at Easter and Christmas time questioning the validity of the Bible and asking whether the events of the Bible really happened.

This is considered quite eminently "respectable" and a model for the kind of intellectual debate that is encouraged in America today. But just imagine what would happen if someone even dared to question one factual detail about the holocaust.

For example, the count of the dead at Auschwitz, compiled mainly from Jewish sources ranges from 9 million, falling through the millions and the hundred thousands, finally deflating to 73,137 in a report in The New York Times for March 3, 1991, based on wartime German concentration camp records. Of these, 38,031 were Jews. See this for yourself in Auschwitz: The Final Count. (See page 19 so you can order this groundbreaking work for yourself.)

Despite British historian David Irving's recent legal defeat at the hands of holocaust industry spokeswoman Deborah Lipstadt, there is a bright side. Discussion of the fact that there are legiti-mate questions about the historical details of the holocaust has now been widely publicized in the major media in the United States of America.

SPOTLIGHT correspondent Michael Collins Piper points out in the May 1 issue of Liberty Letter, an occasional publication for Liberty Lobby Board of Policy members only: "In the wake of the victory by the 'Lipstadt Lobby,' there's no question there will be a renewed push for continuing 'holocaust education' in the public schools to make sure that young people in America don't inadvertently 'fall victim' to believing the facts about the holocaust that David Irving and other dissident historians dared to bring forth."

Irving did not stand a chance of winning his case. The judge who tried the case was totally biased in favor of the holocaust promoters. Justice Charles Gray of the British high court called Irving an "anti-Semite," a "racist," a "pro-nazi polemicist," and charged the historian with manipulating truth. Note the ad hominem attack used to discredit Irving's historical findings. Irving suffered the same syndrome all persons have undergone who have publicized the facts.

account is that the hidden merit in the Irving verdict for which truth seekers should rejoice is that the holocaust is now opened up for discussion.

Readers of The SPOTLIGHT and BOP members of Liberty Lobby can be assured that the holocaust will be discussed in these pages of this free newspaper.

The SPOTLIGHT asserts that it is very difficult what exactly to believe about the holocaust. And The SPOTLIGHT has an obligation to report the truth and real news about all subjects including the holocaust.

For printing the truth, The SPOTLIGHT is out of step with the rest of the media and the American educational
